

Key Investor Information

This document provides you with key investor information about this fund. It is not marketing material. The information is required by law to help you understand the nature and the risks of investing in this fund. You are advised to read it so you can make an informed decision about whether to invest.

Class 3 (SEK) capitalisation

CARNEGIE Fonder Portfolio - CARNEGIE Corporate Bond

Management Company: FundRock Management Company S.A.
LU0075898915

Objectives and investment policy

The sub-fund aims to generate a long-term capital growth by investing in interest bearing instruments such as bonds and money market instruments traded on a regulated market.

The investments primarily focus on issuers in the Nordic region.

The sub-fund may also invest up to 10% of its assets in other investment funds.

The sub-fund can use derivatives to achieve the sub-fund's investment objective or to reduce risks.

The sub-fund is actively managed without reference to a benchmark.

The currency of the share class is SEK.

Under normal circumstances, you may sell your shares any day on which banks are open for business both in Luxembourg and Sweden.

These shares are capitalisation shares. Income and capital gains are reinvested.

Recommendation

This sub-fund may not be appropriate for investors who plan to withdraw their money within 3 years.

Risk and reward profile

What does this synthetic risk and reward indicator mean?

- The shares of Class 3 (SEK) capitalisation are classified in category 3 because the value of the share may be subject to medium variations and consequently the risk of loss and the opportunity of gain may be moderate.
- The risk category for this share class was calculated using historical data. The risk category may not be a reliable indicator of the share class's future risk profile. The risk category shown is not guaranteed and may change over time.
- The seven-category scale is complex, for example 2 is not twice as risky as 1. The gap between 1 and 2 might not be the same as the gap between 5 and 6. A category 1 sub-fund is not a risk-free investment - the risk of losing your money is small, but the chance of making gains is also limited.

Which materially relevant risks are not adequately captured by the synthetic risk and reward indicator?

- Liquidity risk: The risk that part or parts of the fund's assets cannot be disposed of at the relevant price at a given time. The liquidity risk differs between different types of instrument. For example, the liquidity risk for corporate bonds is normally higher than for shares. If the liquidity of an instrument is low, it may result in the fund being unable to dispose of its holdings, with the result that the redemption request cannot be executed according to the normal schedule. In extraordinary circumstances, if the liquidity of the fund's holdings is so deficient that it cannot be traded or it is not possible to value the fund's assets properly, valuation of a fund may be postponed.

- Credit risk: the sub-fund invests directly or indirectly in interest bearing instruments, for example bonds. If an issuer of such an instrument cannot pay interest or the nominal amount at maturity, the investment can lose some or all of its value.
- The sub-fund may use derivatives. Due to their structure, the risk associated with these investment instruments may have a larger impact on the value of the sub-fund, than buying the underlying stock or investment instrument directly.
- Counterparty risk: the risk that a counterpart does not fulfill its obligations to the sub-fund (e.g. not paying an agreed amount or not delivering securities as agreed).
- Currency risk: the sub-fund may hold some of its investments in currencies other than the sub-fund's reference currency. Thus the value of the sub-fund may rise and fall due to currency movements.
- Operational risk: the risk of loss resulting from e.g. system breakdowns, human errors or from external events.

How can I get more information about the risks of the sub-fund?

Additional information concerning the risks of investment is indicated in the corresponding sections of the prospectus of the fund.
